“ People always deserve to feel the spark.

A well-crafted narrative.

It's as much art as it is science, but the right voice can ignite the passion for something entirely new.

A country boy at heart, Nick has been known for over 20 years as a multi-dimensional communicator that's charismatic, thoughtful and funny.

His unique power onstage is directly inspired by his work across multiple industries. Whether it's helping create content for some of the worlds biggest brands, to making you feel something on stage and screen, it's about triggering new possibilities through the power of human connection.

A voice that's as comfortable in a booth as a boardroom

Nick engages across multiple channels, mediums and audiences, from radio (KISSFM), podcast (The Act of Storytelling), to comedy (In Newcastle Tonight), all whilst engaging leadership teams to develop compelling narratives.

An engagement specialist, with award-winning cred

Curating conferences, content and speaker training for brands across the globe (EY, Google, Disney et al), he harnesses his skills in a live environment to both entertain and inspire action.

The alchemist of important conversations

Having trained and performed Internationally as an actor (Neighbours, Utopia, After The End). Nick draws upon his experience to facilitate intimate and authentic conversations with the right dose of heart and humour.

Some key speaking topics include:

The art of stagecraft: authenticity, knowledge and instrument

Leading change: the psychology of a great narrative

Sparking creativity and innovation

Real resilience: the power of vulnerability

Content as your new personal language
