

Are you a primary health care provider working with fathers or their partners in the perinatal period?

If so, we would love to hear from you!

We are researchers from Curtin University who are exploring the information and support needs of first-time dads in Australia. We are interested in your views about a proposed mobile phone-based, peer-facilitated, perinatal education and support program for first-time fathers.

For more information, follow this link:

https://curtin.au1.qualtrics.com/jfe/form/SV_d1iFwnLlKcXw9wO or scan the QR code.

You can also contact Richard Pascal at:
richard.pascal@postgrad.curtin.edu.au.

SCAN ME

